SAN FRANCISCO, April 1st. A Wabbit's Tale, the 2005 incarnation of the California Morris Ale, will be coming to San Francisco on Saturday April 23rd.

A Morris Ale is a free, traveling folk dance event. Morris is a traditional form of English dancing (it's so old that Shakespeare himself made fun of Morris dancers) that's both energetic and attention grabbing!

There will be around 125 dancers from over a dozen teams participating in this family friendly cultural event.

Free Morris Dancing will be performed at:
10:00 am – Justin Herman Plaza
11:30 am – Aquatic Park, near the Hyde Street Pier
4:00 pm – Union Square

More information about the event can be found at <http://www.wabbits-tale.org>.
